MONETARY MATTERS yet remain unchanged, but we are glad to see that the best commercial publications anticipate an approaching change from inertness to movement. The New York Chronicie says that circumstances have demonstrated that the panic from whose effects we have suffered so much, "was produced by the too rapid conversion of little doubt that we shall find this rebanks for mercantile purposes has been $25.50 iarger than was ordinarily supposed, and considers that we are near 'a healthier as annexed: Hides - Flint, 18c; dry saltf interest would be evidence of more igor in trade, would induce capitalis's

The New York Bulletin, March 1st, report-"Buyers are in good attendance, and willing to pay pretty full figures to secure strick, while exporters continue to give close attention to the offering of short motices, from which they again have secured considerable amounts. Experters continue to seek supplies at the south without much success. For forward delivery the position has shown continued buoyancy, with snother advance all around on the apparent corresponding state of affairs at Liversool, the light arrivals at ports and the increased freedom on the movement of 'spot' cotton, the purchases of notices by shippers being understood to be intended to actually go forward, and making a much greater reduction of the supply than the regular report of sales id indicate. There have been a great many orders from the south filled, it is said; the shorts have covered with much freedom, and in several cases have changed tactics and purchased for a rise. In fact, there was a very uppish feeling generally to-day, and at the close the osition was strong, with few operators

THE GENERAL MARKET is in a transition state. The lately depleted stocks have been filled up; more produce is making its way down both the Mississippi and the Ohio, and consequently priors have a strong downward tendency. As a specimen, we may mention cornmeal, which, less than a week ago, was selling at $4 a barrel, sold yesterday at $3 60. This tendency to change puzzles operators, in many cases, so that they scarcely know whether to sell, or buy, or do nothing, and some parties may be found selling off with all speed what others are holding off the market. Corn was apparently unsettled, for while some sold at 84c more went at 82c; 83c was offered for ear corn, yet we heard that some had been sold for 80c. Oats were not offering except by dealers, who asked 72c. Bran brought $28 50, but there was a sale or two as high as $30 Hay is not very active; some timothy changed hands at $25 50. Potatoes partake fully of the uncertainty of prices, but holders contend that the stock north does not warrant expectations of much change. Eggs are in abundance at 20c; but, although it is Lent, the demand for them is very poor. Paultry is becoming more plentiful, and coultry-enters are beginning to think of oring chickens, the more so as the time of getting game will soon be over; oys-ters are going out, warm weather will cool the arder for turkey, venison is passing off, quals and prairie-chickens are ng on, quality and in proportion as they 1864, 1175; 1865, 119;; 1865, new, 118; depart comes in the call for spring chick-en. Butter of high quality has for some time been absent from our market, but we found some yesterday "really choice;" it was selling at 33@35c.

Wasky was held about 19c higher in consequence of the final passage of the tariff by the senate on Tuesday night. Quotations are for round lots, untess advance in prices. The most marked otherwise expressed; for feed and pro-duct levec rates. For small purchases rates are proportionately higher.

RIVER CHRONICLE.

Meteorological and Aquatic. Another immense whirl of the weather-wheel yesterday brought the indicator to the "bright and balmy" hole, and we were blessed with another series of smiles from the god of day, though an occasional cloud intervened to shut out his rays, giving us shadows and sunhine at regular intervals throughout the day. The winds that succeeded the rain and sleet of the night before did much toward drying up the muddy condition of the streets, and movements of freights were not much retarded yester-day. If the weather observer succeeds keeping pace with the "lightning hanges" we have been recently and ore now experiencing, he will exceed what the most sanguine have expected of his department. We hear of continued rises-floods, in fact-in upper streams, and some of the lower rivers have begun contributing high tides to the lower end of the Daddy of Floods, and it only re-mains for a similar demonstration from the upper Mississippi and its tributaries —an event most probable—to insure an immense spring flood from Cairo down. The decline in White river has met with a check, which will be followed by a rise, and Arkansas river is reported rising at Little Rock-in a word, if water is all that is wanted to make stesmboatmen happy, they will soon be blessed with the greatest abundance. Hear what the weather and river arch-

During the excitement which prevailed Tuesday when the Mary Alice and her barges were threatening destruction to all the boats at the levee, a stranger's expression of quiet; superfine, $4 50; double extra, anxiety and distress for the safety of somebody or something of great value was noticed by a kind-hearted lady, who besought her husband to aid him in its recovery. The husband, moved by the tears of his wife, jumped aboard the boat, followed by the stranger, and both together made for the baggage-room, when the stranger seized upon a dilapi dated-looking valise, and jumped ashore. The gentleman followed, and through the curiosity aroused, asked the stranger what the valise contained. The stranger opened the value, presenting to view a couple of dirty linens, two or three pair of socks, a bayonet-scabbard, and an old army belt-buckle with the letters "U. S." stamped on the brass shield. The gentleman wilted, but dared not tell his wife of what he had risked his life to save, though he had done so at her importunity...... any way advance and contribute to the welfare of St. Louis; therefore, it is believed that these influences swayed the mind of the head of the postoffice department in the recent wholesale bestowal of contracts of the mail service, placing Memphis and all points below St. Louis completely at the mercy of St. Louis combinations. It now remains to be seen whether Memphis merchants will quietly submit to this outrage on their rights and interests, or whether they will some to the front and express their indignation in language lacking in no degree of condemnation of the scheme. We have live, enterprising men who have offered liberally for and will carry out faithfully mail contracts in which St. Louis has no more interest than the man in the moon, and their claims have been entirely ignored in the premises. DR. CURTIS has devoted himself for a period ranging over twenty years, and adopted, as his specialties, the treatment and cure of Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Abuse of the System, and such general functional derangement as surings from the above cause, or are incident to an enervated and dept; at condition of the organs.

DR. CURTIS addresses minself to those who have already yielded to the suggestions, and besought the care of ignorant advertising charlatans, from whom they have received on benefit, and who, in fact, have done them more material harm them provided you on benefit, and who, in fact, have cone them more material harm than practical good. It is conceded that Medicine, like all other sciences, is progressive, and every year but records some new development or marked advance. By a felicitous combination of remedies of acknowledged curative powers, bit CURTIS has so arranged and adapted his treatment as to afford not only immediate relief, but radical and permanent cure. The Medical Times says: "Dr. Curtis' system of treatment, the result of twenty years successful practice, differs from all others in general use and commends itself to the afficted as the only true source of reitef. Many cases pronounced incurable have yielded successfully to his remedies."

Dr. Curtis would sgain impress upon the minds of all who contemplate consulting him of lot 57, and west of Promenade street. Also, lots 25, 25, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66 and o7.

All of which lots aforesaid are described by the above mentioned numbers upon the map of the city of Memphis, compiled by M. I. Williamson, in the year 1871, and on that part of the map which is noted as "Navy Yard." Upon some of these lots are valuable improvements, which will be sold with the lots. There will be sold at the same time and place, the balance of the Navy Yard Grounds, which has not been laid off into lots, or subdivisions, and being the remainder of the said ground lying between aforesaid lots 61, 62, 63, 65, 66 and 67, and the Missassippi river on the west, bounded on the north by the extension of the north line of Auction street, and on the south by the extension of the north on the south by the extension of the north line of Market street—we being of opinion that this area is a suitable size in which the grounds should be laid off for a sale. The sale will be made at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, and by the ex-press provisions of the deed all right and quity of redemption is waived, and we the equity of redemption is waiver, and we the trustees will execute to the purchasers, under the express provisions of the deed, "on behalf of, and in the name of, The Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis, deeds in feesimple absolute, with coverants of warranty "by the said city.

DIAMOND SPECTACLES

These spectacles are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called DIAMOND on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent, less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
